
Transit van for sale

Posted by Paul Bryant - 2008/02/27 08:43

My white Ford Transit needs to go to a new good home, as I don't need a van any more.

It's a T280 - short wheel-base / low-top / diesel / boarded-out in the back, with bulkhead / very economical

52 reg (Dec 2002)

~50k miles

Tax and MOT until March, but no reason to suspect that it will throw-up any problems there - it's good and solid. Had it serviced locally just before Christmas.

Offering it here for £3,000

Has a large roofrack at the moment, which I'll throw in for free if you want it.

I'd rather it went to an appreciative local owner, before I stick it on eBay.

FREE Transit van roof rack to good home

Well the old white Transit van went a few weeks ago, but the guy left me with the huge roof rack, which frankly would now look a bit silly on my little sports car!

On a short wheelbase Transit, it extends to the full length of the van roof. It doesn't have it's original mountings, and has been attached to my old van for the past couple of years with standard roof bars (which are in almost new condition).

It is about 18 inches tall and is very heavy and strong. I'm pretty sure it would fit almost any small/medium sized van.

Like I said, free to an appreciative owner - as it's currently stuck up the side of my garage and probably not pleasing the neighbours!

Call me on 01452 770792 / 07973 271611 if you can make use of it...or it'll be chopped up into small pieces soon, ready for a trip to Horsley.....

Cheers...PaulB
